

Intra-Department Debate Competition at The ICFAI University, Sikkim Organized by the School of Legal Studies

21/03/24

The ICFAI University, Sikkim - School of Legal Studies recently organized an Intra-Department Debate Competition, tackling pressing legal issues.

For the knockout round, participants delved into the topic of "Legalization of medical and recreational cannabis," while the final round explored the theme "AI: Boon or a bane for the legal profession."

- Participants and Winners: Total Participants: Eight participants actively participated in the competition, showcasing their analytical skills, legal acumen, and oratory prowess.
- Finalists: From the pool of participants, four emerged as finalists, demonstrating exceptional debating skills and comprehensive understanding of the topics at hand.
- Runner-Up: Ayush Bose, pursuing BA LLB VI Semester, displayed remarkable articulation and critical thinking, securing the position of the runner-up.
- Winner: Sogyal Norbu, a student of BA LLB VII Semester, exhibited outstanding proficiency in argumentation and persuasion, clinching the coveted title of the competition's winner.

The success of the event was further accentuated by the esteemed presence and motivational address delivered by our revered Registrar. Their words of encouragement and support uplifted the spirits of the participants, reaffirming the University's commitment to nurturing bright legal minds.