

The ICFAI University, Sikkim Student Zangmu Bhutia Chosen for Republic Day Parade in New Delhi

In a remarkable achievement, Zangmu Bhutia, an outstanding student currently pursuing her B.Com in the V Semester at The ICFAI University, Sikkim, has been selected to represent both the university and the State at the Republic Day Parade in New Delhi. The journey began at Guards Ground, Gangtok, where Zangmu Bhutia's exceptional abilities caught the attention of officials, subsequently leading to her participation in the Pre Republic Day Parade trial in Bhubaneswar.

Following an intensive 10-day trial in Bhubaneswar, Zangmu Bhutia distinguished herself as an exceptional candidate, securing a well-deserved position in the forthcoming Republic Day Parade at Rashtrapati Bhawan, New Delhi in 2024. The event is set to be honored by the presence of the Hon'ble President of the United States, Joe Biden, alongside His Excellency the President of India and the Hon'ble Prime Minister of India. Zangmu Bhutia's participation in this esteemed national occasion not only highlights her individual capabilities but also emphasizes the dedication to excellence instilled at The ICFAI University, Sikkim.

Zangmu Bhutia's selection is a source of immense pride for the university, reflecting the caliber of its students and the institution's dedicated efforts in nurturing talent. As she prepares to participate in the Republic Day Parade, Zangmu Bhutia stands as a symbol of Sikkim's spirit and cultural richness on a grand national stage.

The ICFAI University Sikkim extends heartfelt congratulations to Zangmu Bhutia on this significant accomplishment and wishes her continued success in her journey to showcase the essence of Sikkim at the Republic Day Parade in New Delhi.
